

A technical line drawing of a mechanical assembly, possibly a robotic arm or a complex machine. A thick red line traces a path through the assembly, starting from the left side and moving towards the right. Several yellow arrows are placed along this red line, indicating the direction of movement or flow. The drawing includes various components like gears, shafts, and structural frames.

Strecke 1 Crosslauf